

Programming Practice (PRP), Coursework Exercise 1 (13%, 10 marks)

Please read the document marked ‘Continuous Assessment Guidelines’ carefully, before attempting any piece of coursework.

This assignment counts for 13% of your mark for PRP continuous assessment, and is the first of four.

The release week for this assignment starts 26th September, at 23:55, and ends 3rd October, at 23:55. All submissions must occur before the end of the release week.

If you have any questions about the structure of this assessment, please email martin.chapman@kcl.ac.uk.

For this weeks assessment, consider the following tasks:

1. Download the program ‘HelloWorld.java’ from the PRP KEATS page (located below this assessment’s download link), fix it, compile it, and run it (2 marks).
2. Write a program that prints the words Nasim Ali to the screen (8 marks).

Once you have completed these questions, you must place all the code you have produced (including any downloaded and modified from KEATS) into a folder, name this folder ‘Exercise1’, zip it and submit it to KEATS. Please note that you should only submit plain text files for assessment.
